R E P O R T.

TO THE QUEEN'S MOST EXCELLENT MAJESTY.

May it please Your Gracious Majesty,

WE, the Commissioners of Charitable Donations and Bequests for Ireland, being required, by the 10th section of the Act passed in the 7th and 8th year of Your Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for the more effectual application of Charitable Donations and Bequests in Ireland," to report once at least in every year, and also whenever Your Majesty's pleasure should be signified to us in that behalf, our proceedings under said Act, do hereby present to Your Gracious Majesty this our Report for the year 1845.

Having received Your Majesty's Royal Warrant, appointing ten Commissioners in pursuance of the said Act, we held our first meeting early in January, and entered upon the performance of our duties as Commissioners, and we have held thirty-one meetings in the year, the dates of which, and the names of the members present thereat, respectively, will be found in the Appendix to this Report.

On entering upon our duties, we applied ourselves to the consideration of the property and the engagements of the late Board of Charitable Donations and Bequests.

The funded property under the control of said late Commissioners, and which became vested in us by said Act, consisted of the following items:—

Government 3½ per cent. Stock	91,453	7	11
Like in joint account with other Trustees	7,888	16	0
„ 3 per cent. Consols	75,844	18	2
Like in joint account	714	16	6

The said late Commissioners were also possessed of six Debentures, amounting in value to 400*l.*, and of a then unascertained sum in the hands of their Treasurer, William P. Mathews, Esquire, and were also in receipt of annuities, rents, and rent-charges, yielding an annual income of about 2,000*l.*

The engagements of said late Board principally consisted of costs due to the Solicitors of that body, amounting to the sum of 5,930*l.* 18*s.* 9*d.*, as furnished to us, and the claim of Mr. Mathews for services as their Treasurer.

Such of those costs as were incurred in causes have been taxed, and the result has been that their amount has been diminished, but in a very small degree, which affords satisfactory evidence of the fairness of the charges. The other bills of costs were not taxed; but, by the direction of the Lords Commissioners of Your Majesty's Treasury, are to be forwarded to them.

On examining those bills of costs, it will appear that, besides costs incurred in suits for the recovery of withheld Donations and Bequests, a portion of them, not inconsiderable, was incurred by the late Commissioners in employing their Solicitors, in the receipt and disbursement of parts of the charity-funds under their control, and in referring to them for their report, on a great many cases, and requiring their constant attendance and professional assistance at the meetings of the late Board.

We determined not to follow the course of the said late Commissioners in these respects, and not to allow the Solicitors to be employed in the discharge of any duties which, in our judgment, more properly devolved on the Board or its Secretaries.

Accordingly we discontinued the receipt and disbursement of funds by the Solicitors, and did not require their attendance at the meetings of the Board, and, instead of referring to the Solicitors any questions of legal difficulty, requiring more time and deliberation than could be conveniently given to them at the meetings of the Board, some one of the legal members undertakes the consideration of them, and reports his opinion and advice to the Board.

These references, however, are not very frequent; for, unless there be some peculiar difficulty in the case, or there are documents of great length to be examined, or complicated facts to be inquired into, all subjects are usually disposed of when first brought under the consideration of the Board, and it is understood that there shall always be a legal member of the Board present; an arrangement which has uniformly been adhered to, as the chair has never been filled except by one of the three Judicial Commissioners.

The effect of this has been not only to secure the speedy and satisfactory dispatch of the duties of the Board, but of avoiding a source of vast expense and delay, which almost necessarily attended the proceedings of the late Commissioners in this respect.

With the exception of the rents of some estates under our control being collected by agents, at a certain poundage, all other monies payable to us are now received and paid without expense.

We have arranged a system of accounts whereby all sums of money to which we are entitled, whether arising from dividends, rents, or monies recovered for charitable purposes, are directly paid into the Bank of Ireland, and placed to our credit in an account specially opened for that purpose, and designated our "Charity Account;" and it is our rule that all drafts upon that account shall have the signature of the Chairman of a Board, one other Commissioner, and the Accountant, and be countersigned by one of our Secretaries.

We have had lodged to this, our Charity Account, during the past year, the sum of 15,621*l.* 12*s.* 9*d.*

In the Appendix to our Report will be found a table, showing from what sources the funds recovered or received by us have been derived, as also returns of the amounts of Government stock standing to our credit in the Bank of Ireland, together with a schedule, showing for what charity trusts the same are held by us.

We are bound to express our obligation to the Bank of Ireland for the facilities afforded to us by that establishment, by means whereof we are enabled to dispense with the appointment of a Treasurer.

Mr. Mathews, the Secretary to the late Board, was employed for several years as their Treasurer; and on our entering into office, we found that his accounts had not been settled, nor was the state of his balance ascertained. He, however, having furnished his accounts, after an examination at our Board, we deemed it right to have their correctness inquired into by a competent Accountant, to whom accordingly they were referred, with directions to investigate same and the vouchers for all credits claimed therein; and said Accountant accordingly did examine said accounts and vouchers, and has reported in favour of the perfect accuracy of those accounts, and of the correctness of the balance as struck by Mr. Mathews.

We consider these accounts to be very creditable to Mr. Mathews. The late Board had not required him either to furnish his accounts, or pay in his balance; and it appeared, on the settlement alluded to, he was indebted to that body in the sum of 4,099*l.* 16*s.* 4*d.*, towards the liquidation of which Mr. Mathews has already paid to our credit a sum of 3,004*l.* 5*s.* 4*d.*, leaving a balance still due by him of 1,095*l.* 11*s.* 0*d.*

It is due to Mr. Mathews to state, it appears by the proceedings of the late Board he was employed by them as their Treasurer on a distinct agreement that he should receive a poundage of 2*½* per cent. on all monies received by him, as compensation for his services in that character, in the receiving and disbursing of the Charity funds, and he was accordingly paid said per centage down to the year 1837, when the late Commissioners being advised that they had not power to make him such allowance, ceased to give him any compensation for his services, but required him to continue to act as their Treasurer upon an understanding that they would cause an application to be made to Your Majesty's Government for such compensation: entries to that effect appear in the proceedings of the late Commissioners, and also by returns made to the House of Commons, to order bearing date the 1st day of June, 1837.

And we beg leave to express our opinion that he is in justice entitled either to the arrears of per centage due to him under his agreement with the late Board, or to some other adequate remuneration, for his services as Treasurer; and we propose to submit his claim in this respect to the Lords Commissioners of Your Majesty's Treasury.

We have caused to be carried into effect the provisions of the 8th section of said Act, rendering it necessary that minutes of our proceedings should be made at each meeting, and duly kept.

In order fully and effectually to carry out the provisions of the 6th section of the Act, in relation to such questions as should arise before us concerning the usages or discipline of the United Church of England and Ireland, or of any Protestant Nonconformists, or of the Church of Rome, we made certain rules or bye-laws, copies of which will be found in the Appendix.

We have the satisfaction to express to Your Majesty, that no occasion has arisen in which it became necessary to recur to these rules or bye-laws, or to the provisions of said 6th section of said Act.

And notwithstanding the vast variety of business which has been transacted at our meetings, and the many topics of importance which have necessarily called for discussion and decision, not a single instance has occurred in which there was ultimately a difference of opinion.

We cannot but regard this unanimity as affording just grounds for believing that the future operations of our Board will secure the public confidence, and ensure the due administration of those important trusts committed to its charge.

Although there has been as yet but one case in which advantage has been taken of the power created by the 15th section of the Act, the particulars of which case will be found in the Appendix, we feel satisfied this has not occurred from any want of confidence on the part of the public in the Board; and we have great satisfaction in stating that, in the discharge of our duties, and the administration of the funds entrusted to us, we have had, but with few exceptions, the cordial co-operation of all persons of every class and persuasion, whose assistance we found it necessary to solicit; and we have received numerous communications from persons with whom we have had correspondence, containing expressions of gratitude to us and our officers, for the readiness, care, and zeal with which the interests of the Charities under our control have been attended to.

All which we submit as our Report to Your Most Excellent Majesty; and in testimony thereof have caused our Corporate Seal to be hereto affixed this sixteenth day of January, 1846.

GALLEN GLEBE INVESTMENT.

Gallen Glebe Investment.

By deed of the 16th of May, 1845, made between the Honorable Frederick Ponsonby, of Cloghan, in the King's County, of the first part, the Commissioners of Charitable Donations and Bequests for Ireland, of the second part, and the Reverend Kiernan Egan, of Cloghan, in the King's County, parish priest, of the third part, the said Honorable Frederick Ponsonby, in pursuance of the Act of the 7th and 8th Victoria, chapter 97, section 15, conveyed and released the plot intended for the parochial house to be the residence of the Roman Catholic parish priest of the parish of Gallen, for the time being, containing 3 roods and 11 perches, plantation measure, and also that part of the town lands of Cloghan and Ballyloughan, containing 4 acres, Irish measure, to the said Commissioners, upon trust, to permit and suffer the Reverend Kiernan Egan, the now officiating parish priest, or Roman Catholic ecclesiastic having pastoral superintendence as parish priest of the congregation of persons professing the Roman Catholic religion, in the parish of Gallen, in the King's County, and those and every of those who shall for ever hereafter, from time to time, so officiate as parish priest in the said parish of Gallen, or shall succeed to the same pastoral superintendence therein, to have, hold, and enjoy the same and every part thereof, as therein mentioned, during such time and times, and no longer, as he and they shall respectively and successively continue to be the parish priest, or Roman Catholic ecclesiastic having pastoral superintendence, as parish priest, of the congregation of persons professing the Roman Catholic religion in the parish of Gallen, in the King's County.

Such deed was duly executed and registered in pursuance of the Act.
